FDP on - Bridging the Gap between Teachers & Learners Self-Management & Work Ethics

Date: 16/10/2018 to 20/10/2018

Place: Seminar Hall

Resource Person: Dr. Sam Paul Issac&Dr. E. GeethaVenu

Event Report:

Dr. Sam Paul Issac (Director KCP) delivered a very effective and relevant faculty development workshop for the KCP staff on October 17th, 2018.

Bridging the Gap Between Teachers and Learners, self-management, and professional ethics were among the issues discussed.

The presentations were lively, with plenty of opportunities for participation in debates and activities.

The talks were focused and short, and they provoked thought.

Despite the fact that most staff are familiar with the concepts, the refresher helped everyone relearn various pedagogical principles such as involving students, making learning pleasurable and fascinating, efficiently employing evaluations, and creating opportunities for interaction.

The second session's theme was that self-management, work ethics, time management, and solid philosophy are all necessary ingredients for becoming a confident individual with self-esteem and a positive attitude toward life.

Overall, it was a very productive morning, and it is anticipated that the concepts enunciated would be remembered and put into effect in the institutions to improve the teaching-learning environment.

INDUCTION TRAINING OF FACULTY REPORT

A 5 days long program "Induction Training of Faculty" was organized by Krupanidhi Collegeof Pharmacy during July 23rd to July 27th, 2019. Multiple Resource Persons consisting of Academic Administrators, Academicians from different colleges of Krupanidhi Educational Trust, Social Activists and Fitness Experts shared rich experiences and insights about being good, effective, motivating teachers who are custodians of values and culture of a society as well as change agents, role model, society and nation building, administrative aspects including procedures and rules. There were 3 to 4 academic sessions in each day.

Day1:

The program started with welcome address by Dr. Sam Paul Issac, Director, KGI followed by introduction of participants in the Inauguration & Orientation session. The Director gave an overview of the program.

Prof.PrakashMaliya, from Krupanidhi College of Pharmacy deliberated on "Role of Teacher in Society" in the second session. The speaker discussed about role of teacher on the basis of three main themes and these are

- i) Traditional role of a teacher,
- ii) Teacher's role today and
- iii) Teacher's role in developed nations. According to him teacher should create condition that learning could take place along with personal goal with social responsibility or social justice. He also discussed some scenarios where teacher's social role comes out.

Day 2:

Dr. Prakash A, delivered a lecture on "Evolution of Higher Education in India". He discussed about the evolution of Higher Education from Indus Valley; about different dynasties of the same period. According tohim in this evolution the spirit of different institutions also played a very important role. The speaker also focused on some of the application based courses which are very much needed in present time in Higher Education Institutions w.r.t. need of various geographical characteristics and socio-economic importance.

Day3:

In the first session was taken by Dr.PraveshSoti, Principal KGI on "Teaching Profession and Public Relations". The session began with the idea of public relation, its importance, publicity and goodwill. The speaker also discussed about public relation of educational institutions and society at two different levels that is individual level and social level.

In the second session "Internal Quality Assurance" was delivered by Dr.Badrunnisa S, Quality Head ,KGI. The speaker discussed about linkage of external and internal quality that leads to assessment of an institution. He also mentioned about the composition of IQAC and primary aim of IQAC with different strategies.

Day 4:

Dr. Khalid Imran, Research Head KET delivered the last session on "Research and Society". The speaker explained about requirements for aligning research with society viz well defined purpose, long term plan, leaving no possibility of failure, holistic multidisciplinary approach, 24*7 devotion, readiness to invest own money, forgo short term gains and perseverance. According to him purpose of research is generation of knowledge for understanding the nature and improving it. Dr. Khalid discussed some of his research works.

Day 1to2:

Dr Amit Kumar Das has started the program five day seminar on "An outline to Intellectual Property Rights by inviting the Guests for the day. Prof PV Mallya, CPPA Director and motivated the students to understand the importance and essence of building research knowledge for their career and higher education. Healso mentioned about the various research activities introduced to the students during academic year 2018-2019. Further he emphasized the importance of protecting the intellectual knowledge of an individual or organization. Finally he asked the students to best utilize the resource persons to understand basic components of IPR it applications.

Varthur Hobli, Bangalore

Dr. Siddarth has started his presentation by describing the basics of what is intellectual and asked students about the skills that students usually posses (singing, dancing, movie making, artistic, photography etc). He further explained how to identify what is the Intellectual. He explained about the current world scenario in protecting the intellectual property and described the examples of number of products (neem and curcumin) on which India has lost its control in international market. Dr. Siddarth Misra has also talked about the Trademark, different trademark types and how that represents a particular product or company. He explained the differenences between trademark, trade secret, copy right and who will be eligible to own it. Patent, trademark, and trade secret are industrial properties and copyright is an individual property. He explained about the copy right Act introduction in India, its terms and conditions and laws governing infringement in both civil and criminal cases. He gave some example of literary, dramatic, musical, artistic, novels, poems, computer databases and sound tracks etc. that can be subjected to copy right protection.
